The Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius are powerful forces of spiritual renewal, and offer unparalleled opportunities to allow the Holy Ghost to speak to us.

Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre invited two preachers of the Cooperators of Christ the King to Dakar to preach the exercises while he was Archbishop there. Others copied his action in the Ivory Coast and Cameroon, with remarkable success. When he was Archbishop at Tulle upon his return to France, he recommended them to his faithful in his pastoral letters. As founder of the Society of Saint Pius X, he incorporated into the Statutes a paragraph on the continuation of the spiritual formation of seminarians and priests. He prescribed: "They will also love the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius, highly recommended by the Popes, and which will be one day for them a powerful tool of their ministry."

Pope Pius XI (who reigned from 1922-1939), wrote twice in praise of the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola which are utilized in the SSPX's retreat centers. The first writing was an apostolic letter, Meditantibus nobis on December 3, 1922, for the occasion of the 300th year anniversary of the canonization of St. Ignatius, while the second was an encyclical, Mens nostra on December 20, 1929.
